allowance unless stated otherwise*****

1. Take 20 of the accent squares and sew a piece of sashing to one of the sides. Press the seam towards the accent.
  - a. Alternative: Instead of using squares, you can use something like a jelly roll (2.5in strip). Sew the 1in sashing down the entire length of the jelly roll. Press towards the accent, and then subcut into 2.5in. Continue the instructions as they are written.
2. Pair up the accent/sashing so that the new piece is attached to the opposite side of the already attached sashing. Press the seam towards the accent.
3. Repeat one more time until you have an alternating row of accent and sashing, ending with a single sashing side. Take one of the remaining 5 accent squares and add to the empty sashing. Press the seam towards the accent.
4. Once you have five rows of accent/sashing, line up one of the 12.5in sashing (pin as needed) and sew together. Press to the sashing.
5. Add the next row of accent (pinning becomes more important here to make sure the vertical sashing line up). Press towards the sashing.
6. Repeat until you have a grid of 5 by 5.
